It's a Matter of Choice!

- Do you believe in choice or do you think everything has already been decided for you by some higher power? Why do some people agree with the latter idea?
- How far would you seek or trust other people's counsel? Shouldn't we just make our own choices?
- What has been your most challenging choice so far? How about your worst choice ever?
- Are there any choices you regret so much you would rather turn back time to correct? What about the ones you would make again and again?

Pro-choice or Pro-life?

Choice of Identity

- How far do you think people should be given freedom of choice over their lifestyles?
- Should there be certain norms governing social behavior? Can they be challenged by any new generation, like, in their selection of new lifestyles or cultural features?
